Designers

This concept store was opened by architects Margarida Grácio Nunes and Fernando Sanchez Salvador, who have created an entire candlelit world filled with men's and women's ready-to-wear, accessories, lifestyle objects, scents, and ceramics. Fans will want to visit the couture workshop (Rua das Flores, 105. 1st floor dto (right); tel: 213 475 137.)

ANA SALAZAR

*Rua do Carmo, 87.
Subway: Baixa-Chiado.

Designer

Credited with initiating Portugal's fashion industry at the beginning of the 1970s, Ana Salazar, daughter of painter and architect Óscar Pinto Lobo, is considered the doyenne of women's fashion in Lisbon. Her styles, heavily inspired by her entourage of artists and writers, are especially popular with Lisbon high society. Other location: Avenida de Roma, 16e. Tel: 218 486 799.

EL DORADO

*Rua do Norte, 23.
Subway: Baixa-Chiado.
Tel: 213 431 239.*

*Open 2pm to 10pm. Closed Sunday.
Credit cards accepted.*

Vintage

This was the first used clothing store in the city, and it's still the best. Generations of local bohemians, rebels, and eccentrics have been shopping here since the 1950s. Still going strong, the shop offers a great selection of recycled clothing.

FASHION CLINIC

*Avenida da Liberdade, 249.
Tel: 213 541 084.*

*Subway: Avenida or Marquês de Pombal.
Open 10am to 7:30pm.
Closed Sunday.
Credit cards accepted.*

Trendy

Paula Amorim, the new owner, is sure of her (excellent) choices, and you are sure to wear what you buy here right away. The prescription is simple: a good dose of Céline, three DKNY tablets, a Dolce & Gabbana vitamin treatment, and a transfusion of Missoni and Jil Sander should get you back on your dancing feet. Keep in shape with Miu Miu, but make sure you don't overdose on Prada. For sportswear—Adidas, Coast, Juicy Couture, Levi's Red, Prada Sport, Energy, Guru, Y-3—you'll have to go to the shop across the street (Tivoli Forum, Avenida da Liberdade; tel: 213 142 828.)

HOLD ME

*Rua do Norte, 33.
Subway: Baixa-Chiado.
Tel: 213 471 570.
Open noon to 10pm.
Closed Sunday. Credit cards accepted.*

Bags, suitcases

The handbags in this Bairro Alto shop cry out to be held. They are chosen by Dilia, an assistant film director, and John, a well-known DJ who owns other fashion boutiques in Lisbon. This shop also sells suitcases, trunks, and vanity cases—in other words, everything you can carry things in, whether for shopping or travel. You'll find
